This is one of a series of articles to be published in The Star to acquaint its readers with activities of the Marion Community Foundation, which will conduct its annual fund campaign Oct. 21-31. The campaign goal is $67,190. Your fair share is a day's pay.

More than 700 Marion city boys and scores of others in communities throughout the county are active Boy Scouts.

They are engaged in a many-sided program of mental, moral, physical and religious training which touches nearly all of the fundamental elements of good citizenship. It would make the public law enforcement authorities, particularly those dealing with juvenile dilinquency, happy if every boy were required to go through several years of Scouting.

For Scouting has a tremendous force at its disposal, in addition to the influence of the Scout leaders themselves. It lies in the natural desire of a boy to have his fellow-Scouts think well of him. Gross misbehavior just doesn't fit in with the Scouting program because the boys themselves, with encouragement and guidance of their leaders, set high standards of conduct for themselves.

Marion County Troops

There are 48,902 Boy Scout troops in this country today, including 19 in Marion city and seven more in other communities of the county including LaRue, New Bloomington, Caledonia, Meeker, Prospect, Green Camp and Morral. Also, there are eight Cub packs in the city, part of an organization of 15.479 Cub packs throughout the nation. Membership in both the Scouts and Cub packs is now at an all-time high.

To measure Scouting in Marion and Marion county, it is necessary to group the county with the other counties comprising the Harding Area of Boy Scouts, which has its headquarters in Marion. The area membership roll has grown from 725 in 1942 to 2,134 this year, and the area organization now has three fulltime executives and 555 volunteer leaders. The area includes Marion, Morrow, Crawford and Wyandot counties.

In Marion city, 278 volunteer leaders help direct the work of 725 Boy Scouts. The troops, their organization sponsors and their scoutmasters are as follows:

Troop 1, Elks Lodge, Robert Montague; Troop 2, Edison school P.-T. A., James C. Ritzler; Troop 3, Epworth Methodist church, Roy Yocum; Troop 4, Trinity Baptist church, James Kerr; Troop 5, American Legion, Dick Howard; Troop 6, First Presbyterian church, Clifford Knudson; Troop 7, First Evangelical and Reformed church, Bernard Amrine; Troop 9, Navy Club, A. W. Whittington; Troop 11, A. M. E. church, Milton Lashley; Troop 12, First United Brethren church, R. L. Boyce; Troop 14, Fite Memorial Baptist church, Virgil Williams; Troop 15, Emanuel Lutheran church, W. E. STOCKS, PACED BY MEAT, LEAP UPWARD

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—Paced by the prominent meat packing issues, stock market prices leaped upward in early trading today in the wake of President Truman's decontrol pronouncement.

The rush to buy meat packing shares was such that bids and offers could not be straightened out for more than an hour after the market opened. Then, shortly after 11:00 a. m., Wilson was recorded as up $2.25 a share and Cudahy up $4.75. Armour opened up $1.75 on the transfer of 45,000 shares.

The pace slowed in the second hour, and many prices dropped back under their early best. But Eastman Kodak and Hiram Walker advanced $6 a share and Johns-Manville $4.50 in the fast first hour.

The ticker tape fell more than two minutes behind floor trading soon after the opening gong.

In the buying burst American Telephone was up more than $3, Southern Railway advanced $2.50, Bethlehem Steel $2 and U. S. Rubber $1.50 during the first 15 minutes.

GRAINS, COTTON JOIN IN RISE OF PRICES

By The Associated Press

Grains and cotton jumped on the high-price bandwagon with livestock and meat products today following President Truman's announcement of decontrol of the latter last night.

Wheat was up as much as four cents a bushel, corn 3¾ cents a bushel and oats were three cents higher on the Chicago board of trade before general profit-taking cut into gains to some extent.

Cotton futures at New York soared as much as $2.45 a bale.

Lard also followed the price rise on meat, climbing 11.7 cents a pound at Chicago over yesterday's closing price of 18.3 cents.

A reverse influence was felt in egg futures trading on the Chicago mercantile exchange where prices promptly dropped the two-cent daily limit.

Congressman Smith Takes Issue with Truman on Meat

In a statement issued here today Congressman Frederick C. Smith of Marion, representing the Eighth Ohio district, took issue with what he termed erroneous implications in President Truman's meat decontrol address last night.

His statement follows:

"President Truman in his speech last evening announcing decontrol for the present of meat gave out an erroneous impression when he stated that as long as nine months before price control expired he 'urged the congress to extend it right away in order to protect our people and prevent ruinous inflation,' and then added 'four times more in the spring of 1946 I urged the congress to act promptly.'

"The truth is that Mr. Truman could have had congress act upon the price control bill at any time he chose to do so by simply following the regular procedure. Nothing more would have been required than for him to request the chairmen of the house committee on banking and currency and the senate committee on banking and finance to hold hearings on the bill and send it to the two respective houses for passage.

"It is also a fact that certain members of the house committee on banking and currency, of which I am a member, strongly urged the chairman to consider the price control act many months before it was finally taken up. He refused to act.

"The impression was general that action on the price control measure was purposely delayed until the last hours of the session to give it color of emergency and then have it rushed through without adequate consideration, or changes, in accordance with the

NAZI HANGINGS MAY BEGIN AT 6 P. M. TODAY

Reports Circulate That Executions Have Been Moved Up.

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Oct. 15—Unofficial reports circulated here today that the hangings of the 11 condemned Nazi ringleaders would begin in the Nuernberg prison yard at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday (6:01 p. m. EST Tuesday).

It previously had been expected that the executions would start at dawn, although there had been no official anouncement concerning the time.

It is expected that the executions will take about three hours altogether and that a formal announcement of their completion will be forthcoming about 4 a. m. (10 p. m. EST today).

The four power commission has made plain that there will be no official announcement concerning the executions until after the last man has gone to the scaffold.

Reports that the hangings will begin at one minute past midnight tonight were given credence by an American officer, a Russian colonel and several prison employes.

No Information Given

There has been no information given out concerning the arrangements for the hangings, but if they are to be completed within three hours this probably will mean that more than one scaffold and more than one hangman will be employed.

The 11 men scheduled to die:

Hermann Goering, Adolf Hitler's No. 2 man.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister.

Field Marshall Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the high command.

Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, German army chief of staff.

Ernest Kaltenbrunner, chief of the Nazi security police.

Alfred Rosenberg, philosopher of the Nazi party.

Hans Frank, governor general of Poland.

Fritz Sauckel, Nazi labor boss.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, gauleiter of the Netherlands.

Julius Streicher, the Jew baiter.

Wilhelm Frick, "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia.

Briefing officers told correspondents at the regular morning news conference that they had been forbidden to answer any questions concerning the time of the execution or the details of any arrangements for burial.

List Reactions of Men

The only information they would disclose concerned the reactions of the convicted men.

With their last hours of life swiftly running out, 10 of the condemned men—their last appeals having been denied—turned to religion today for solace.

Only Rosenberg refused to see a chaplain or study the Bible. All the others talked at length about their faith in God. Kaltenbrunner received communion this morning and the others were expected to receive it later in the day.

Goering told prison doctors he had no fear of death and said he intended to try to show dignity until the very last moment. Jodl, one of five Catholics in the group, said it was fundamental that every religion must be based on love.

Talks of Rome Visit

Frank talked at length about a visit he made to Rome with Hitler and Rudolf Hess and of how he tried in vain to get Hitler and Hess to visit St. Peter's. Seyss-Inquart was said to be very serious and calm.

Sauckel was reported quieter than he had been earlier and more resigned to his fate, although he still expressed belief there had been errors in the findings of the international tribunal which found him guilty.

Keitel, who has displayed stoic calm since he was sentenced, remained quiet and serious.

Capt. Sam Binder of the prison security detail said the doomed men had not yet been informed of the time they were to die. He said there would be no previous announcement to the press on the place and time of the executions, on the details of the burials or on the time of departure and arrival at destination of the seven men given prison terms.

Binder said none of the men had made any major complaints about the treatment accorded them, although Frick and Rosenberg protested the regulation which required them to sleep with their hands outside their blankets.

Ribbentrop was the only one reported to have had a bad night last night. He was said to be suffering a headache as the result of lack of sleep.

Yugoslavs Quit Peace Parley

Action at Conference's End Draws Sharp Rebuke from Byrnes.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Oct. 15 — Yugoslavia withdrew officially from the peace conference, which ended at 5:28 p. m. (11:28 a. m. E. S. T.), in its closing hours today in protest against what she termed "unjust decisions" of the conference majority and drew a prompt rebuke from U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes.

"Just as no one nation had the power to win the war," Byrnes said, "so no one nation has the right to dictate the peace."

Deputy Premier Edvard Kardelj of Yugoslavia, in announcing the Yugoslav decision to withdraw, challenged the decisions of the 21-nation conference on the Italian treaty. He said the solution should be met by "mutual agreement" and implied that if Yugoslavia's desires were not achieved his country would not sign the treaty.

Byrnes, taking the floor after the Yugoslav withdrawal was announced, said the United States would support in the four-power foreign ministers council every decision backed by two-thirds of the peace conference.

The secretary said the American delegation would do so regardless of how it voted itself, and would give "sympathetic consideration" to every other conference decision.

Approve Report

The delegates approved the plenary session reports on all five treaties—for Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland — within a half hour after the meeting convened.

The Yugoslav delegation, which had contended strongly but without success for the Italian port of Trieste, addressed a letter to the conference chairman, Quo Tai-chi of China, announcing Yugoslavia would not participate in the final approval of the conference decisions and would not associate herself with the recommendations.

Only yesterday, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russian denounced some of the conference's decisions as "unsatisfactory," suggesting that questions such as Trieste, free navigation of the Danube and the Bulgarian-Greek border would be reopened when the foreign ministers council meets in New York Nov. 4 to draft the final terms for Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.

Charges "Ruthlessness"

Deputy Premier Edvard Kardelj of Yugoslavia, who wrote the letter, said the nation of Marshal Tito was withdrawing in protest against what he termed "unjust decisions" imposed upon Yugoslavia by asserted ruthlessness in "outvoting."

Quo announced a few minutes after the session started that he had received a letter from the deputy premier of Yugoslavia saying that Balkan country "could not" participate in the session.

Seats of the Yugoslav delegation were conspicuously vacant.

SABOTAGE SEEN IN PITTSBURGH FOR THIRD TIME

Power Company Says High-Powered Bullet Knocked Out Transformer.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 15 — The strikebound Duquesne Light Company announced a high-powered bullet was fired into a large outdoor transformer today, reducing the supply of electricity to the Pittsburgh industrial area.

It was the third instance of sabotage recorded by police in the 22-day-old power strike.

The reduction in electricity forced the Pittsburgh Railways Co., to curtail its already limited trolley service, on which the majority of Pittsburgh workers depend for their transportation. The company had hoped to operate 200 trolleys today, but the number was shaved to about 100 because of the rifle-blasting of the transformer. This was about 12 per cent of the city's normal street car service.

The company said the shooting occurred at its Colfax station near suburban Springdale.

Went Through Transformer

A spokesman for the firm said no one saw the shot fired but that "the bullet went through the transformer."

"This cut out a large portion of the load and required switching of a considerable number of circuits," he said.

"Sections in the area were without current from four to 15 minutes. A large portion of the total load was lost, which means that consumers all through the Pittsburgh area will have to conserve current more strictly than ever.

"The transformer went out at 6:27 a. m."

On Oct. 9 the light company attributed to sabotage a breakdown in its Brentwood station which temporarily cut off service to some 30,000 persons. Earlier, a power failure in the industrial town of Clairton also had been blamed by the company on sabotage.

Power service was cut off for brief periods in McKeesport, East Liberty, Oakland, Glenwood and Squirrel Hill after the bullet hit the Colfax transformer today.

Allegheny county detectives and deputy sheriffs immediately started an investigation.

Go To Polls Today

More than half of the 3,200 members of the independent association of employes of the company now in the fourth week of a strike that has made 50,000 workers idle, go to the polls today to decide whether they want to change their union affiliation.

On petition of the AFL-United Mine Workers District 50, the national labor relations board sanctioned a collective bargaining election for 1,728 of the em-

Steaks and Roasts Observers Believe Due Within 10 Days,

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—Steaks and roasts should be back on butcher counters within 10 days as a result of President Truman's action in ripping OPA controls off meat today.

They're apt to be more than a little tough, and prices undoubtedly will be sharply above current ceilings.

But whether the flow to market keeps up during the next few weeks and months will depend upon two prime factors — the weather and slaughterers' bids.

It is generally agreed there has been a tendency on the part of farmers since price ceilings were reapplied last month to withhold livestock from market in anticipation of larger returns.

The temporary suspension of controls during July and August brought a flood of animals to market, and consumers feasted. But now the market movement may be somewhat slower starting than in July.

At that time there was an urgency to sell before controls were slapped back on. There is

GOP Gets Chance To Answer Truman at 10 P. M. Tonight

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—The Republicans will get their chance tonight to talk "meat politics" in rebuttal to President Truman.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said it has offered its coast-to-coast facilities for a Republican spokesman—still to be designated—to reply to Mr. Truman's address last night. The broadcast is scheduled for 10 to 10:15 p. m.

CBS said the time had been offered the Republicans before G.O.P. national chairman Carroll Reece announced he had asked all four major radio networks for the same amount of time granted to Mr. Truman. CBS estimated 44,546,000 adult listeners heard Mr. Truman.

An official at Republican headquarters said that CBS is the only network thus far to offer time for the G.O.P. speaker. He added that Reece probably would present the G.O.P. views.

Substantial Boosts in Livestock Rates Registered Here

Substantial boosts in livestock quotations at the Marion Union Stockyards today followed last night's presidential order killing price ceilings on meat.

Hog prices jumped to $28 a hundred for good quality animals, compared to yesterday's ceiling of $15.85, prices on good quality calves were quoted at $22, compared to the $18.30 ceiling and top cattle prices were $25, $4.45 over the ceiling of $20.55.

Whether or not prices would go ever higher will depend on the supply of livestock that comes in, livestock officials said. They predicted it would be at least ten days before any change in the present meat supply would be noticeable on Marion's dinner tables and said it would be two or three days before any major increase in cattle and hog runs would be felt at the livestock yards.

Within a week, however, cattle and hogs should be flowing into the local market at a marked increase over what they have been under price regulations, stockyards officials said, but they did not expect to see the heavy cattle and hog runs experienced after ceilings were lifted June 30.

Hog Prices Jump $8.75 Per Hundred Pounds

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—Hog prices leaped as much as $8.75 a hundred pounds in early sales of livestock at Union stockyards today.

Only 800 head were on sale, since insufficient time was allowed for [illegible] loading after President Truman announced removal of all price control on meat and livestock.

Under price control still in effect yesterday the ceiling price was $16.25 for hogs and there was a subsidy of $1.70 a hundred pounds paid to producers.

Today's yearly prices on good and choice sows and gilts ranged from $22.50 to $25.00, an advance of $6.00 and $8.75.

FORMAL ORDER LIFTS CURBS ON LIVESTOCK

Subsidies and Slaughter Restrictions Also Are Abolished.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 — Carrying out President Truman's orders, the OPA today officially ended price controls on livestock, meat and food and feed products made from them, effective at 12:01 a. m. today.

OPA Administratod Paul Porter also announced that "all slaughter controls were revoked so that quota restrictions will no longer apply."

Government subsidy payments to the meat industry also are abolished.

Porter said the OPA "will announce as soon as practicable the specific list of commodities on which ceilings will be retained."

Commodities not on that list thus will be decontrolled, he added.

The brief OPA announcement noted that "price ceilings must be retained on important commodities and services where demand is still in excess of supply."

Some Items Remain

Examples of things that remain under price lids are "automobiles, farm equipment, household appliances, furniture, basic clothing items and building materials."

Listed on OPA's formal decontrol order are:

"Livestock and food and feed products processed or manufactured in whole or substantial part from livestock (domestic and imported)."

OPA explained that a food or feed product "shall be deemed to be made in substantial part from livestock if it contains 33 1-3 per cent or more by weight or volume of livestock, or of livestock and any one or more of other decontrol commodities. Weight of volume is determined on the basis of the weight or volume of the total ingredients exclusive of water, added as an ingredient in the product before mixture."

Government formalities ending price controls on meats went forward swiftly today in the wake of President Truman's decision that decontrol is the "only remedy" for the nationwide shortage.

First to act were OPA Administrator Paul Porter and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson.

Porter drafted an order lifting price controls from livestock, meat and other livestock products.

Anderson promptly approved it.

Along with the passing of price ceilings on meats, OPA said today that slaughter controls also expire immediately.

Slaughter Control Ended

Arval Erikson, director of meat enforcement for the pricing agency, told a reporter that the entire slaughter control program had been ended by President Truman.

Under this program the government controlled the number of live animals that could be converted into meat by any packer or other slaughterer.

The Chief Executive—to the tune of Democrats' applause and criticism, Republican taunts and industary jubilation — also signalled an earlier end to virtually the whole series of wartime restrictions, except those over rents.

Mr. Truman said the removal of ceilings on items other than meat will be speeded up and this will hasten the end of wage controls.

Sharply reversing his previous stand, the President told the nation the "real blame" for his action "lies at the door of the reckless group of selfish men who, in the hope of gaining political advantage, have encouraged sellers to gamble on the destruction of price control."

Speaking in a nation-wide broadcast last night, three weeks before the congressional elections, Mr. Truman said that OPA and the agriculture department would formally scrap the meat price lids today. Their action was all that was required to make the elimination of controls legally effective.

However, no great quantity of meat is expected to begin appearing in butcher shops for perhaps 10 days, [illegible] required to get livestock from the farms to meat counters.

G.O.P. GAINING IN WISCONSIN

Party Has Visions of Sweeping State as Democrats Trail.

(This is one of a series of reports by Jack Bell on conditions in states with major election campaigns.)

By JACK BELL
AP Political Reporter

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14—Underdog Wisconsin Democrats have reached for the liberal label in election contests where a resurgent Republican party is trying for a clean sweep of one senate and 10 house seats.

Calling on former Commerce Secretary Henry A. Wallace and other speakers for help, the Democrats are fighting an apparently uphill battle for Howard J. McMurray of Milwaukee, their senatorial nominee, and to retain the two house seats they now hold in the state.

Robert E. Tehan, the party's national committeeman, told this reporter the Democrats are staking their chances in a state which has had strong Progressive tendencies in the past, on the claim that they represent the liberal the liberal viewpoint and the Republican organization the reactionary position.

Wallace will visit the state for a speech before a farm group late this month.

Confident of Victory

State GOP Chairman Tom Coleman said he is confident not only of the election of Joseph R. McCarthy, Republican senatorial candidate, but of victories for the party candidates in the Fourth and Fifth congressional districts which now are held by the Democrats. The GOP then would have a solid representation if its nominees win elsewhere and Merlin Hull, progressive turned Republican, is reelected in the Ninth district.

McMurray, former Wisconsin university professor endorsed by the CIO, has said in speeches that he has been a Roosevelt New Dealer and is proud of that record.

President Truman's name is almost never mentioned in the campaign but here, as elsewhere, the Republicans are bearing down heavily in blaming the national administration for meat shortages and other irritations. McCarthy has called for elimination of OPA, except for rent controls.

Tehan has met the Communist issue by denouncing the party's nominee for congress in the Fourth district, Edmund V. Bobrowicz of Milwaukee, for alleged political association with the Communists.

Have Not Acted

The party organization has not acted, however, to back Rep. Thad F. Wasielewski, whose entry as an independent after his defeat in the Democratic primary apparently has enhanced the chances of Republican John C. Brophy.

The big question in Wisconsin is where the 202,557 Republicans, Progressives and others who voted for former Senator Robert M. LaFollette Jr. in the primary will go in the general election next month.

Coleman said he believes a majority will suport McCarthy, who won by 5,396 votes in the primary.

Tehan predicted the bulk of these voters would support McMurray, but the latter undeniably alienated many LaFollette supporters by publishing full page ads attacking LaFollette during the primary. McMurray had no opposition in his own primary.

Gov. Walter S. Goodland, 83-year-old Republican nominated to succeed himself despite the party organization's indorsement of another candidate in the primary, apparently has made his peace with the GOP leaders.

BUCYRUS, Oct. 15—Return of the Ohio Public Health council's X-ray mobile unit to Crawford county early next year has been requested by the local health council.

The unit visited the county last January when 2,535 persons were x-rayed. But at that time three Bucyrus industrial firms were on strike and the unit did not have an opportunity to examine the workers except those that took the examination at one of the school buildings.

YOUR HEALTH

Infection

Of interest to men is the news that another troublesome and stubborn infection, an infection of the beard, known as sycosis barbae, has yielded to penicillin.

As a general rule, this disorder is produced by an invasion of staphylococcus germs around the hair roots. Entrenched here, they cause red, inflamed areas of the skin and the formation of blisters filled with a thick fluid. Later these blisters break and the fluid hardens on the skin. Ordinarily this condition is difficult to clear up, and as time goes on it becomes increasingly irritating and unsightly.

Recently Dr. A. Burrows and his co-workers of England found penicillin ointment effective in giving speedy relief for sycosis barbae. They found that penicillin in this form is more convenient to apply, gives more lasting effects and better results than when used in a solution.

Twenty patients were treated, the penicillin-containing cream being rubbed over the beard area and around the nostrils three times daily.

Of 13 who had had the beard infection, from 1 to 14 years, 6 were cleared up within six weeks 6 others were greatly improved. In 4 of 6 patients who had the condition for less than 10 months, the infection was cleared up within three weeks and a fifth case the infection was suppressed after five weeks of treatment. It is suggested that the treatment be continued for a few weeks after the sycosis barbae is apparently cured.

There are other things which can be done to aid in lessening the chances for a recurrence. These include getting rid of any nasal discharge, infections of the eyelids, ear infection, and infections which may be present in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses or elsewhere in the body. Contaminated shaving brushes and wash cloths should be discarded.

In the more severe cases, treatment with X-ray to cause the hair of the beard to fall out may be advisable, together with the penicillin treatment.

More than 30,000,000 acres of U. S. forest land are burned annually.

Vinegar Joe

BECAUSE Americans like to believe their generals all have the common touch and wear their brass uncomfortably, Joseph W. Stillwell was a natural favorite. He became almost as well known as commander of a bogged-down project in Asia as his much sprucer associate who drew the more fateful assignment in Europe.

One of the things discovered about generals in World War II, which brought them into prominence again, was their fiercely-professional pride in being generals. Gen. Stilwell, like nearly all the rest, had prepared himself for his war destiny, never knowing whether or not the preparation had been wasted. He was one of the war department's China hands.

More than half his time from World War I to Pearl Harbor was spent in China, learning the language, studying the people, their customs, their potentialities in war. When war came, he was better prepared than his government for the job his government needed to do in China. It will not be on the record that Gen. Stilwell scored a triumph, but it is in the official record of his chief of staff, Gen. George C. Marshall, that he did everything it was humanly possible to do with a task which now is baffling Gen. Marshall himself.

Gen. Stilwell—Vinegar Joe—is dead. His career was an honor to all professional militarists who prepare endlessly for the crisis that may never happen and which may prove insurmountable if it does happen.

No Wake Likely

THE first anniversary of the government-sponsored labor-management conference in which everybody agreed to disagree is being approached with remorse. Surely nothing but remorse could explain why Walter Reuther, president of United Automobile Workers, wants to hold a second conference.

Hindsight makes it plain that long before the 1945 conference got under way at the beginning of November its failure had been made inevitable by a series of fateful decisions which were to cause industrial war in the United States. Whether those decisions were made in good or in bad faith is unknown and now is unimportant. The fact is that a year after the labor-management conference from which the public expected much and got nothing there is nothing to confer about until circumstances change.

Specifically, if Mr. Reuther wants a second conference, he will have to show cause. Otherwise, no wake is likely to be held in honor of what might have been if management and labor had succeeded in getting their heads together in 1945, instead of knocking them together until both sides were groggy.

One Doubt Clearing Up

THE war department's unexpected announcement that draft calls for the rest of this year are being canceled lightens doubt about one aspect of military policy.

It begins to look as if the United States might be able to meet its military commitments without wholesale drafting of eligible manpower. At existing rates of volunteering, no further drafting will be necessary in 1946, and if the same rates continued into 1947 the Selective Service Act's continuation would become a formality, to assure the military manpower supply.

The war department is planning ahead, moreover, in the hope of providing itself with a supply of trained military manpower for the future. Its universal training proposal, which would furnish at least a year of training for virtually all young men outside the regular army and the Air Corps, would furnish a continuous stream of recruits for these services. The great majority of the voluntary enlistments obtained during 1946 were of men already in service. While the men who would be wearing uniforms under a training program would not be in the fighting services, it is reasonable to suppose that a great many of them might want to enlist in those services upon completion of their basic training.

Events more than theory now are shaping United States policy concerning military preparedness. Events have made it imperative to keep large numbers of troops abroad for even longer terms than could have been foreseen. Events have given the services a higher yield from its recruiting program than could have been foreseen. Events may yet conspire to give the United States what it never has had before in its history—a standing army and a military reserve commensurate with its military obligations.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Russia's Two-Thirds Rule Backfires at Paris.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—The only surprise of the Paris meeting of the war nations was that after Russia had rigged the conference securely, the ropes got loose and she was blown backward.

You will recall she would let the 21 nations act only by a two-thirds majority. She figured upon 8 sure votes, including some border nations like Norway. In this way she intended to prevent any important action by the Nations regarding the treaties she had managed to conclude with Messrs. Byrnes, Bevin and Bidault—or as much of them as she had agreed to.

But upon the important matters like the question of an uncommunistic Trieste and a free Danube, she could get only 6 votes—her own 3 (Russia, White Russia and Ukraine) and 3 satellites (Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.) The balloting upon these issues went 15 to 6 against her.

Now these were the most vital undecided issues from the Big Four discussions because Russia wishes to deliver Trieste to Yugoslavia and Communism, and the Danube river must be dominated and held closed by her satellite nations bordering it, or she will not be able to maintain her economic empire in central Europe

If the adopted French compromise on Trieste is maintained, she will have only an open chance to make that section securely Communistic sometime in the future while open trade upon the Danube river will strengthen there the theory of free trade among nations, although actually there is little direct trading use we can make of the river.

Yet these steps toward peace are somewhat intangible. The verdicts of the 21 nations conference are to be reviewed immediately in another meeting of the Big Four to be held simultaneously with the United Nations assembly in New York Oct. 23. At that meeting Russia will have her usual veto power, and in view of the sharp, if not sour, protest she lodged in Paris against the decisions which went against her, few expect she will fail to use her atomic weapon of diplomacy which has stultified most of the final peace conclusions thus far. So while the treaties were adopted at Paris, they were not accepted by Russia and less hopeful action is likely to follow.

Paris showed progress in one other respect. Russia was breathing fire at the opening, using strong and threatening language, accusing the western powers of this and that. At the end she was comparatively mild rhetorically, and her government newspapers which had been saying at the outset that the capitalistic nations intended to make war on Russia, took a more sensible view of matters, and exuded a spirit of moderation. If Stalin had been trying to build up his people to war against the United States and Britain, his policy was definitely broken at Paris.

Byrnes Stands Ground

The inner scheme of that meeting, therefore, is not difficult to discover. Mr. Byrnes stood his ground, in the face of threats from Russia and sabotage at home (Wallace affair) and, for once, Russia gave air, if only hot air, and prestige if not ground.

These changes can easily be overestimated. Actually they show only that about two-thirds of the world, or slightly more, is not in favor of Russia's attempt to build a new empire today and would like to see obstacles placed in the path of Communism. They also show Russia found she could not maintain her belligerent diplomacy, or bulldozing tactics, in the face of this world opinion. They mean no more. Results are yet to be seen. The treaties may yet be scrapped by a Russian veto of the suggested vital changes. The peace discussions may be interminable if in a more moderate tone.

While the heavy majority of the peoples of the world has found a way to express itself, it has not yet found the way to require an unwilling and uncompromising nation to accept its opinions or give ground to peace.

While it has become popular since Stalin said there would be no war, for everyone to say there will be no war, Stalin did not cut the size of the Red army to peacetime proportions from its stand of 6,000,000 (last accepted figure) and we are still spending $18 billions, yes billions, this year for armaments.

Actions will continue to speak louder than words — even the words in treaties.

Rover Comes Out Of the Doghouse

The Veterans Administration has ruled that dogs honorably discharged from the K-9 Corps are entitled to government treatment for service-incurred disabilities.

That's the best news for GI-fido since the quartermaster corps began issuing flea-powder.

The K-9 Corps? The K-9 Corps was the one outfit in the Army with a worse bark than supply sergeants.

The K-9 Corps rendered service beyond the call of duty on every front: the artic snow, the tropic mire, even on the burning desert where there wasn't a tree for miles.

These were the personnel the USO forgot. There were no Kennel clubs on Kwajalein. Hollywood sent out no pin-ups of Lassie. And most of the time the PX didn't even have any dog biscuits.

But having won such a notable victory in the VA's latest ruling, it is inevitably but a question of time now until the old war dogs set up a howl for a bone-us.

Republican Trend in Ohio

By RAYMOND MOLEY

JOHN W. BRICKER was nominated for vice president in 1944 because of his extraordinary vote-getting record in the decisive state of Ohio. The Roosevelt name was too much for him elsewhere, but Dewey - Bricker carried Ohio. This year, he is again testing his popularity in his native state, and it looks now as if he would break his past records in state elections.

A month ago, when this observer visited Ohio, John Bricker was confident, but not overconfident. Neither Bricker nor his running mate, Thomas J. Herbert, were inclined to slight the difficulty of putting Ohio into Republican territory by a big vote. He realized, as do all Ohioans, that Governor Frank J. Lausche is going to run well on the Democratic ticket. Since Lausche heads his ticket, and Bricker, as candidate for U. S. senator, is well down the printed list, the Democratic governor will get what may be called a typographical advantage. But Bricker faced a similar situation before, with Roosevelt running. And he proved to be a lusty ballot-splitting candidate. Twice in recent years Ohio voters have split their tickets by as much as half a million votes.

Looks Bright Now

This week the Ohio situation looks very bright for Bricker and unexpectedly good for Herbert. Reports and polls from all over the state give Bricker a big edge over Senator James W. Huffman. A Gallup poll which, it should be noted, offered only a simple choice between the two candidates for senator, gives Bricker a two-to-one lead. If that advantage should prevail on election day, the Bricker majority would be around 700,000, which is more than 200,000 over the most imposing of Bricker's previous victories. But it is clear that Lausche will run much better than Huffman, and straight-ticket voting will cut this prospective Bricker majority.

On the other hand, the obvious Bricker strength will enormously help Herbert in his fight against Lausche. Newspaper polls show that Lausche is running considerably below his 1944 strength in traditionally Demoratic counties. A month ago, wise people predicted a substantial Lausche victory. The same people now say that the contest for governor will be very close.

A Bricker sweep would probably carry three of the present Democratic congressional districts. Three Republicans will have a hard fight, unless the present general Republican trend continues until election. The rest of the 17 Republican congressional districts will probably remain Republican.

Good Illustration

But Ohio well illustrates a factor which should dampen the optimism of those Republicans who believe that a trend away from the Truman administration will sweep in a considerable Republican majority in the house. Most of the normally Republican districts have Republican congressmen now. Three of the six Democrats are safe. The other three can be displaced. But three Republican districts have local situations, such as strong Democratic candidates, which make them fighting ground. Ohio may well contribute a quota of new Repulican congressmen, but the number will be small. Except in three or four states, a similar situation prevails. Here and there Republicans will surely pick up seats. But the campaign is not over, despite the incredible blunders of the Truman administration.

No Lack of Patience in Paris

By WALTER LIPPMANN

SECRETARY of State Byrnes and his associates, Senators Vandenberg and Connally, have not failed because they lacked patience, firmness, sincerity, and idealism, but because they have been trying to do the impossible.

They have been trying by force of argument to induce the Soviet Union to yield power and influence in the territory which the Red Army has occupied. That has been their first objective in the campaign to settle the global war

They have not achieved this objective, and it was self-evident from the outset that they could not achieve it. Byrnes has devoted more than a year of the post-war era to challenging the Soviet Union where it is strongest and we are weakest, where we had the least to offer, and the Russians had, in their view, the most to lose.

The only way that the Russian power in eastern Europe can be reduced is as part of a general world settlement. For in a general settlement the vast, rich, and vital areas of the world, which the Western powers control would be in the balance with the area which Russia controls. In our areas, we have the power to act, the power to induce, the power to compel.

In restricting the "peace conference" to the area which Russia controls entirely and to two or three points like Trieste, which Russian power touches immediately, we were renouncing the very idea of a global or "one world" settlement. The basis of a negotiation was not there.

Byrnes had nothing to bargain with; he could not force the Russians to yield, since he lacked military power in that area, and he could not persuade them to yield, since he had nothing to offer them elsewhere except the good opinion of their allies.

Broader Settlement

When Roosevelt and Churchill dealt with Stalin in eastern Europe they never imagined that they could achieve their ends except in connection with settlements that covered a much wider area. The Yalta agreement about eastern Europe, which Byrnes has been trying to enforce for more than a year, was one among many agreements touching all the main issues of the global war. The fundamental departure of Byrnes from President Roosevelt's conception of the peace-making has been in separating, isolating and therefore overemphasizing this one region, where the Soviets are strongest and the most stubborn, we the feeblest and the most ineffectual.

Byrnes has been trying to settle a world war, having excluded from the negotiations Japan and many and its form of government, the Japanese colonial empire in the Pacific, the Italian colonial empire in Africa.

Have we any right to be astonished that the peacemakers have not even begun to talk about a world settlement among the victors and with the vanquished" How could we have made any progress toward one world or even one Europe, when we have dedicated a year to talking solely about one special part of it"

Moreover, in the vast areas which were excluded from the peacemaking but are under western power or influence, we have neglected to use our power and influence: If we could not or would not negotiate about them with the Russians, what was there to prevent us from organizing them to fit into the structure of the world as we believe it should be"

If Germany was not to be discussed at the peace conference, then at least we could have reached agreement with the British, the French, the Belgians and the Dutch about the western borderlands of Germany, and about the constitutional structure of Germany in the western zones.

But we were apparently too preoccupied with Trieste to think seriously about Hamburg, too interested in the Danube to think about the Rhine, too anxious to make a treaty about Romania and her oil to make up our minds about the Rhuhr and its coal and steel.

Other Decisions Possible

If we could not or would not negotiate the colonial problems, we could at least have made up our minds what we proposed to do about the Italian, the Japanese, and the former German colonies. To have done some of these things would not have produced a global settlement. But it would have improved enormously our political and moral position, when, as, and if we went to negotiate a global settlement.

If all that could be said of the strategical plan of our peacemaking is that it did not accomplish anything in eastern Europe, it might not be so bad. But there is worse ahead if Byrnes proceeds on the course he has been taking. In eastern Europe, the alignment has been consolidated and sharpened by the insistence of our delegation that everything be staked on narrow issues, and that every nation should stand up publicly and be counted for the Russians or against them.

If the same strategy and tactics are applied also to the German settlement, the result will surely be dangerous to the point of disaster. For if we deal with the frontiers of Germany and the form of the German government as we have been dealing with Italy, Yugoslavia and Trieste, such as shooting, as the sun will rise tomorrow, Byrnes and Molotov will become engaged in an auction, trying to outbid each other, as they have already started to do this summer, for the favor of the German nationalists.

Germany will become the pawn Byrnes has said it should not be because, by separating aspects of the German problem from a general settlement for Europe, Germany can be nothing but a pawn in the rivalry and competition of the three non-European powers.

Elmer Twitchell on the Meat Plot.

ELMER TWITCHELL has been looking fu into "the great conspiracy to keep the p from eating." His report makes things than we supposed. "It is all pretty clear," he sa today. "Republicans, without exception vegetarians, the American Manufacturers' A ciation lives on herbs, the National Chambe Commerce drops any member who weighs 110 pounds, and all packers love it when impossible for them to do business."

Mr. Twitchell said that, while the above repre sented the basic facts, there were supplement ones making the conspiracy more horrend than ever. Elmer gave a summary as follows

(2) Republican politicians, none of whom e anything beyond the soup and the sam courses, are in a plot to starve all American If they can get the voters too weak to travel f they figure, they can get them to the polls they have the larger limousines.

It made us pretty indignant. We ran into Republican on the street and tried to snub hi but he had his anti snubbers on.

"Aren't you ashamed of yourself, creating t meat shortage, holding the cattle back and dr ing the housewife nuts?" we asked.

"Naw," he sneered, licking his chops.

"Keeping steaks out of restaurants and mea loaf out of kitchens," we bristled, "Aren't y mortified."

A cow passed at this moment.

"Watch me give it the evil eye!" said t Republican.

He did so and it instantly shrunk to o quarter of its former size.

"I am doing that all over America," he boa

"Aren't you ashamed?" we demanded aga

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a mild' disorder.

Although they may seem a mild ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size involving more and more of the rectal area

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine ones health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties

"Peace" Parley Ends in Discord with Russ; Slavs

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

—DewittMackenzie

The Paris "peace" conference has terminated its labors in a spirit of acrimony and dissension that emphasizes the split between the Russian dominated Slavic bloc and the Western Allies, and threatens to nullify much of the labor which has been expended since the parley opened July 29.

The conference results (one scarcely can employ the more optimistic term "achievements") now will be placed before the Big Four foreign ministers council — America, Britain, Russia and France—in New York for approval or rejection Decisions of the council must be unanimous and a fiery outburst by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov in the closing session of the Paris conference indicated that he would employ the veto against several important actions of that body.

So the dove of peace would seem to have been setting on an addled egg in the old Luxembourg palace And lucky she didn t get shot, as well

Molotov tossed the monkeywrench into the machinery with great deliberation He declared that the results of the conference were unsatisfactory. He accused the United States, Britain and France of violating their agreements (made in the foreign ministers council) in adopting a number of anti-democratic" measures regarding Trieste

Charges U. S Domination

And the Soviet foreign secretary angrily charged that the United States had dominated the conference Was it by coincidence that almost simultaneously the Moscow press and radio took vigorous punches at Uncle Sam? Well, anyway yesterday the Soviet newspaper Pravda, commenting on strikes in the United States, declared that American capital had launched a campaign against workers as part of a program to conquer the world by imperialism Sunday the Moscow radio stated that Premier Stalin was referring "to such a country as the United States" when he made his recent declaration that talk of a new war was promoted by some military men to prevent reduction of military budgets in their countries

Molotov, in accusing the United States of dominating a group of lesser powers to achieve its own ends, declared that "in all votes in the conference it was enough for the American delegate to vote and another 12 or 13 votes were assured " He said the Americans sought "definite decisions regardless of whether they were correct as long as they pleased this group"

U S Senator Arthur H Vandenberg preceded Molotov with a speech which spurred the Soviet foreign minister s anger The senator demanded without success that Russia s $300 000,000 reparations bill against Finland be cut to $200,000 000 on the ground that the larger amount was too much for the little country to pay He also took exception to remarks in previous speeches in which "the motives of the United States in this matter have been attacked" He then declared bluntly

Appeals to History's Verdict

"Mr President, the United States delegation will leave its motives to the verdict of history in connection with the winning of the war and the writing of a just peace We decline to plead as defendants among allies to whom we have given every ounce of cooperation in blood and treasure of which a great nation is capable But we shall continue to speak for the American conception of justice and fair play"

Molotov retorted that the senator s address "made an unfavorable impression both as to his consistency and his frankness" The Soviet representative proceeded to lash out with both fists at the United States

That is the unhappy situation as the Big Four transfer their activities to New York This final outburst in Paris was no mere flash in the pan It marked an accumulation of distrust and suspicion which has been driving the eastern and western allies further apart If this atmosphere prevails when the Big Four foreign ministers assemble in New York, the prospect of international accord will indeed be gloomy.

UNREST SEEN IN GERMANY

Americans Predict Possible Disorders There This Winter.

By The Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Oct. 15—High American intelligence sources said today that overcrowding, hunger and economic uncertainty might cause "bad unrest" in Germany in the winter.

But, they said, the U. S. army doesn't expect much Nazi subversive activity. Anti-American resistance, they added, is "at its dullest," though a "careful watch" is being kept on German veteran organizations, termed "the biggest potential threat to our occupation"

"We have plans to meet any possible trouble in the American zone," said these quarters, speaking unofficially "It's problematic whether there will be any, but all the potentialities are there"

They listed these major factors

(1) populataion increases U S zone population is expected to jump to 17,450,000 by the end of the year—against 16,000 000 three months ago and 14 000,000 in 1933

(2) overcrowding available housing is taxed 43 per cent over 1939 standards there is not enough for all new arrivals, even though "most Germans live like sardines"

(3) food the German crop was better than expected, but the minimum calory ration for Germans depends on grain shipments from America—"we're going to feel the effects of the shipping strike right in the middle of the winter, when we can least afford it"

(4) major crimes are dropping but "potentialities exist for a crime wave"

"Add up these factors" said the intelligence authorities "and you have all the makings of trouble If there is unrest, it can grow into disorder, and if there is disorder among the Germans, it can spread to displaced persons and have an effect even among our own soldiers"

Reliable intelligence sources drew this picture of subersive movements

Veterans' organizations, led by fugitive SS (Elite Guard) men, are the biggest possible danger, Escaped SS and Wehrmacht men are agitating against the occupation and helping others to flee prison camps

no such urgency now Furthermore, livestockmen generally feel that prices will be good for another year at least

May Hold Prices Down

As for the immediate higher prices, the increase naturally will absorb the present government meat subsidy averaging about five cents a pound at retail There may, however, be a tendency on the part of slaughterers to try to hold increases down particularly in view of Mr. Truman s assertion that

"The American people will know where the responsibility rests if profiteering on meet raises prices so high that the average American cannot buy it"

Should that tendency develop, many farmers might well decide to wait awhile before marketing in large volume Most of those with animals to sell are in a position to wait

The only cattle right now available in any sizeable quantities are grass-fed—the ones that produce tougher meat.

But favorable fall weather has kept pastures and ranges in unusually good condition for this time of the year. Farmers thus can keep cattle on this grass for at least two more weeks and add more weight with little additional cost. This would tend to boost prices

On the other hand, should a cold wave move out of the north, heavy marketings would follow immediately.

Summer Shortage Seen

Looking further ahead, today's removal of price controls may have an adverse affect on the supply of meat next spring and summer. This supply is obtained largely from cattle fattened in corn-belt feed lots during the winter

Encouraged by this year's bumper grain crops and by prospects of good livestock prices for at least another year, feeders have been buying near-record numbers of light and medium weight cattle produced on ranges and grasslands.

Under price controls, slaughterers could not bid as much as feeders for the medium-weight, "two-way" cattle so-called by the industry because they are suitable either for further fattening or for immediate slaughter.

But now that controls are off, slaughterers will be able to outbid feeders. Hence, fewer such cattle will go to feed lots for slaughter next year.

"DREAMBOAT" SPEED FLIGHT CALLED OFF

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Oct 15—The U S. Army s champion long-distance plane, the Pacusan Dreamboat set out confidently for New York today in an assault on the Atlantic speed record, but returned to Paris less than three hours late, with fouled sparkplugs

The Army transport command base at Orly airfield said cigar- had cancelled his attempt to try for a record because he had been summoned to a conference in Westover, Mass.

At the takeoff today, Irvine said he expected the B-29 Superfortress to reach New York within "a little over 11 hours," to shatter a year-old record now claimed by a TWA Constellation of 14 hours and 39 minutes

To do that, throttles on the Superfort s four mighty engines would have to be open most of the way The Dreamboat s capable of more than 400 miles per hour

It flew its great trans-Polar region flight of 9 500 miles from Honolulu to Cairo in 39 hours and 35 minutes at an average speed of 240 miles this fall atrocious weather earlier this month Irvine said that was the fastest time on any flight approaching that distance

Ground crews found sparkplugs faulty on the No 4 engine and the crew reported dissatisfaction with the No 3 engine

Irvine said he was ready to start again as soon as the trouble was corrected and the weather permits"

Irvine said the Dreamboat climbed more than six miles and levelled off at 32 000 feet to obtain an average speed of 400 miles an hour before it turned back He had planned to check in at La Guardia field in New York for the record timing and then continue non-stop to Washington

"The public is entitled to know the facts

"In speaking of the alternatives which were being considered to deal with the meat crisis the President said in his speech that long and serious consideration' had been given to the government seizing from farms and ranges the cattle for slaughter " The fact that the President admitted serious consideration had been given to such an un-American procedure should definitely arouse the American people to a realization of what is actually in the minds of those in control of our government for it should not be forgotten that the Communists in Russia resorted to this same procedure to completely enslave their people with resultant starvation of millions upon millions of Russians The evil which thus fell upon the Russian people has never been relieved and it is a well known fact that they have never regained their previous standard of living that the masses have less to eat and wear than they had under the czarist regime "

LAUSCHE SAYS HERBERT "CLEANUP" INSIGNIFICANT

Charges Jailed Gamblers Kept in Prison Part Time Only.

LORAIN, O, Oct 15—An assertion that Thomas J Herbert conducted an investigation of gambling in Youngstown several years ago that produced only a "few insignificant victims was made by Gov Lausche at a Democratic rally last night

Herbert, now Lausche s Republican opponent in the coming election, was then attorney general, the governor declared, and his investigation turned out to be a "complete travesty on justice

The insignificant victims were duly sentenced and the investigation was closed," he went on. "My opponent implied that a complete and thorough investigation had been had.

"Very soon afterwards the true character of the investigation was shown when Youngstown discovered, to its amazement and chagrin, that the convicted victims were truly jailed for a part of the week but were released [illegible]

Prosperity But No Profit Seen

That Dilemma Faces Industry in 1946, Says Cleveland Executive.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct 15 — The phrase "profitless prosperity," Brig Gen Leonard P Ayres said today, has become "genuinely applicable to important and numerous segments of business in 1946"

The Cleveland Trust Company's vice president and economist, writing in that institution's business bulletin, declared

The great automotive industry, as well as many lesser ones, has been experiencing a condition of profitless prosperity this year. It is nearly incredible that this great essential business, with its huge backlog of unsatisfied demands, should be losing money in this postwar period

"If the automobile industry and the construction industry were prosperous, this country would be experiencing a business boom that could be of exceptional duration As things are, both of them are far from being prosperous

Their output is low and erratic, their prices are high and their customers are dissatisfied They are making progress toward greater efficiency of production, but it is disappointingly slow progress

Conditions in these two industries typify those in many other industries The companies are suffering from shortages of materials, extreme wage increases, and low per capita production by employes "

Declaring that greater production was necessary to maintain economic balance, General Ayres continued

We have more workers employed than ever before. There is ample credit available on easy terms for almost any constructive enterprise that needs credit We have great accumulated shortages of many kinds of goods, and large numbers of eager buyers competing for opportunities to buy the things they want "

It is preposterous that under this combination of conditions the prospec for profits are so dubious that we have had a collapse in security prices Wage costs per unit of production have advanced too rapidly, and price relationships are disorganized"

Addressing trustees of the Cleveland crime commission yesterday, Sohngen said stiffening controls on liquor permit holders would help the state remain wet.

Already, he said, there are about 60 local option elections scheduled for the state this fall.

Some day, we know not when,
We shall meet in a better land
And never part again.

We shall listen to their voices
And behold them face to face.

Love's remembrance outlasts all.

Mansfield Tackles Massillon in Bid for Ohio's Mythical Championship

Tygers vs Tigers Battle May Decide State Honors Riddle

By DON STULL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15—That annually hard-to-picture race for the mythical Ohio scholastic football title will be drawn into sharp focus this coming weekend.

One of the top high school pigskin dramas of the year—Mansfield vs Massillon at Mansfield Friday night—promises to clear up the picture considerably and may solve several riddles in the championship puzzle.

Mansfield, with five straight decisive victories, is considered a leading contender for the crown, but must get by Massillon to challenge the position of Cleveland's Cathedral Latin Lions, who with 27 straight wins dominate the Ohio schoolboy picture much like Army does the national collegiate show.

Five Wins Also

Latin has five convincing triumphs in a row, too—four of them from Cleveland district teams and one a 14-7 conquest of the same Massillon Tigers who'll be facing Mansfield Friday.

If Mansfield Tygers (spelled with a y) can produce a convincing victory over Massillon's Tigers (spelled with an i), the TYgers can move alongside the Lions on the top rung of the ladder.

But a Massillon triumph, on the other hand, would bump the Mansfielders virtually out of title consideration.

But if Mansfield does turn the trick, it'll mark the first time in 14 years of rivalry they've managed to overcome their foe from Stark county. In those previous meetings, Massillon has triumphed 14 times, the other two ending in ties.

Two other perennial contenders for the crown—Toledo Waite and Newark's Wildcats—were ousted out of the running by upset defeats the past weekend.

Libbey Downs Waite

Toledo Libbey snapped Waite's 15-game winning streak by the baseball score of 8 to 6, the margin of victory being a safety that followed a Libbey drive halted on the four-yard line. Waite's Dick Davis, was nailed behind the goal line for the two points that spelled victory.

The Coshocton Redskins cut a 16-game string of wins for Newark as fullback Karl Shurtz of the Redskins dove over tackle for a touchdown and an extra point that produced a slender 7-6 margin of triumph. The victory was a crowning climax in an evening set aside to honor the Redskins veteran coach Schuyler (Sky) Wharton, who was presented a new automobile by fans showing their appreciation for his 20 years of service at Coshocton.

At least a dozen other logical championship contenders came through the fifth weekend of play with records still unmarred. These include Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, Campbell Memorial, East Palestine, Columbiana, Steubenville Central Catholic, Dayton Chaminade, Lima Central, Upper Arlington, Grandview, Fremont Ross, Middletown and Cincinnati St. Xavier.

OSU SCRUBS PERK UP AS SHAKEUP LOOMS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15 — Scrubs on Ohio State university's many-teamed football aggregation stepped around more briskly today after a hint from Head Coach Paul Bixler of a forthcoming drastic squad shakeup.

Rebuffed twice in three starts, Bixler made no secret of his displeasure with current Buck performance—particularly at Madison last Saturday.

"We're going to start putting the seconds, thirds and fourths through hard paces immediately—tonight in fact," he told football scribes at a weekly luncheon yesterday.

Looking toward the Purdue game here Saturday, Scout Esco Sarkinnen came forth with a dope sheet on current strengths and weaknesses in the Boilermaker lineup.

Like Ohio State, a non-winner in Big Nine competition, Purdue nevertheless has a strong outfit, said Sarkinnen, who watched the team play both Iowa and Illinois.

One vague possibility for Bixler this fall showed up on the Ohio State campus yesterday—Dean Sensanbaugher, a first string back for OSU back in 1943. Just out of the Army, Sensanbaugher said he would try to enroll this quarter, but a university spokesman told the Associated Press that registrations "officially closed Oct. 8."

Central Varsity Trims Vernon 23-0; Juniors Also Win 13-0

After being held to a two-point lead in the first half, Central Junior High's varsity finished strongly in the third and fourth quarters of their contest at the stadium last night handing the Vernon gridders their first defeat of the season 23 to 0.

Central scored a safety in the first quarter after Vernon was penalized to their own four for clipping. Dowler fumbled the pass from center, downing the ball behind his own goal line.

The first half was fought on even terms, the Uptowners penetrating to the East Siders' 28-yard marker only to lose the ball by a fumble on the 32. Central recovered a Vernon fumble on the 32 but, evening up the situation, Graham intercepted a pass on his own 17. The first half ended with Central on their own 46. Vernon never advanced past their own 40 in the first half.

Score in 3rd Quarter

Central tallied late in the third quarter when Hipes, who did not start the game because of an injury, running from the first single wing formation used in the game, took the ball on a reverse and went 51 yards around the left end to score. Fullback Spearos made the extra point.

The green clad gridders started their second touchdown drive from the 50 early in the fourth quarter. The ball was advanced on long gains by Leffler, Spearos, Hipes and Williams with Spearos carrying the pigskin over from the four. J. Williams scored the extra point running wide from the quarterback spot.

Make Final Score

Vernon left half Zimmerman fumbled and Central left end Bechtel recovered on the Vernon 39 setting the stage for the series of plays which resulted in the final tally. Hipes got 25 yards to the five and Spearos once more crossed the line. Williams scored the extra point. Vernon twice moved the ball to the mid-field stripe but never crossed into enemy territory.

The Central reserves also kept their slate clean scoring in the second and last quarters. Day sped 32 yards to the Vernon 9 and fullback Russell carried the ball into the sacred territory.

Russell once again scored, this time sweeping left end from his own 45. Kasotis made the extra point and the game ended with the score standing 13 to 0.

CLEVELAND TO OPEN LOOP HOCKEY SEASON

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15—Cleveland's new hockey team—and no one claims it has much resemblance to the old club—opens its American league campaign tonight in a match with the Philadelphia Rockets, who return to the circuit after a war-time absence.

Only seven members of last season's club are back with the Barons, the others having been sold or traded.

Still on hand are centers Les Cunningham and Fred Thurier, left wings Lou Trudel and Ernie Griggs, defensemen Gordon Davidson and Danny Sprout and goal tender John (Kiszkan) Bower.

An entirely new front line, Bobby Carse, John Holota and Pete Leswick, will start.

New defensemen include John McClenahan, also purchased from Detroit, and Julian Sawchuk and Doug Lane, newcomers to the pro ranks and native Canadians. A new forward is Hank Goldup, purchased from the New York Rangers.

Philadelphia has four ex-Barons, Phil Hergesheimer, Ed Prokop, Pete Bessone and Paul Gauthier.

Army Back in No. 1 Slot After Absence of Only One Week; Texas in No. 3 Spot

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—After only a week's absence, Army has returned to the head of the nation's football parade, and Texas has slipped into third place behind Notre Dame.

The country's sports writers, balloting in The Associated Press' weekly poll, were quick to restore Red Blaik's Black Panthers, on the basis of their 20-13 victory over Michigan, to the No. 1 ranking they held for two years.

Sixty-three of 139 writers put the Cadets back at the head of the class.

Based on Points

Based on a point-scoring system of 10 points for a first-place ballot, nine for a second, eight for a third, and so on, Army collected 1,267½ points.

The Longhorns squeaked through over Oklahoma by the same score that Army did in beating Michigan. Army previously had defeated Oklahoma 21-7, and because of that game the Texas team had declared it aimed to make Army look bad by comparison.

The Longhorns were given 38 points for the top spot, and while they drew more than Notre Dame's 31 for first place, the Irish rolled up a huge second-place score—51½ to 31 for Texas. Apparently Notre Dame's 49-6 trouncing of Purdue made a better impression on the voters than did Texas' decision over the Sooners.

In spite of their setback by Army, Michigan's Wolverines dropped only one notch in the ratings, from fourth last week to fifth. Displacing Michigan at No. 4 position was University of California at Los Angeles, 26-6 victor over Stanford. The Bruins' third straight win got them five first-place ballots and all of the writers contributed to a 763-point total for the Uclans.

Penn Gets Votes

Penn's Quakers, who have yet to encounter any bothersome competition, received a pair of first-place votes and amassed 502 points that give them sixth place, just 40 short of Michigan's 542.

Alabama dropped to seventh place with 470 and two other southern teams, Georgia and Tennessee, broke their eighth-place tie of last week, Georgia remaining in that spot with 356 while the Vols wound up No. 9 with 336. Northwestern stayed in tenth place at 203½ as a result of its one-touchdown victory over Minnesota.

Oklahoma, having lost to both Army and Texas, got an "E" for effort by being promoted from 22nd to 13th ranking.

The second ten: 11—Columbia, 189½; 12—Louisiana State, 125; 13—Oklahoma, 109; 14—Arkansas 25; 15—North Carolina, 23; 16—Rice, 19; 17—Duke, 15; 18—Indiana, 12; 19—William and Mary, 11; 20—tie between Wisconsin and Tulsa, 10 each.

Others receiving one or more points included Ohio State, 2.

Marion Driver Wins Third Place Money

Driving the McCurdy Riley, Bob Simpson placed behind Mike Salay of South Bend and Red Bales of Cleveland in the featured 25 lap Marysville Sweepstakes at the Union county fairgrounds Sunday afternoon.

Frank Luptow who posted the fastest time of the day 27.30, fell out of the feature race in the second lap due to engine trouble. Harry King starting third in the feature got mixed up with Bales and Luptow going through the fence thus loosing his chance to finish in the money.

Sablen slated to drive for McCurdy went through the fence driving a Cross Hal in one of the preliminary heats.

The Dreyer which Simpson usually drives developed engine trouble and so Simpson accelerated the Riley in the main event. Bales besides being presented with a trophy for winning was given a kiss from the presenter, a girl of acknowledged beauty.

These events were sponsored by the Buckeye Speedways.

Two Drivers Hurt In Chicago Sulky Pileup

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—Driver Jay Weller of Republic, O., suffered a possible hip fracture and driver Eddie Barnes Jr., of Rushville, Ind., broke his right arm last night in a pile-up of sulkies during the feature race at Maywood Park.

Both were taken to the West Lake hospital in suburban Melrose Park.

Miss Stardust, the race's favorite, driven by Weller, tumbled when Miss Ruby, piloted by Elmer Conrad of Corydon, Ind., cut in sharply on the first turn, observers said. Weller was thrown about 25 feet. As he was trying to get up, Asa Win, driven by Barnes, piled into the staggering Miss Stardust and the horse hit Weller. Barnes was thrown 15 feet by the impact.

Park judges fined Conrad $50 and suspended him for five days on a charge of interference.

Harding Presidents Dig In for Long Home Stand As St. Mary Travels

Prexies Host To Findlay Friday While Irish Invade Richwood

By GEORGE ROEST

With more than half of their season behind them the Harding Presidents will dig in on their home football field to play three successive games before moving to Springfield and finis for the year. This Friday night will find Harding once again hanging out the victory-wanted sign when they meet Findlay.

The St. Mary Irish who have been unsuccessful in their last two starts will play out-of-town against Richwood, another Mid-State league opponent. After dropping four in a row Richwood held a favored Mt. Gilead eleven to an 18 to 18 deadlock last Friday night. On basis of past performances and comparative scores, St. Mary is due to be installed as the favorite in this contest. However it probably won't be a one-sided affair because the Richwood gridders last week showed they aren't a team which takes much stock in forecasters' odds.

Other Non-League Matches

The rest of the league teams will be playing non-league matches. Marysville, at the top of the league, entertains London and second place Mt. Gilead plays Bellville on the Mt. Gilead home grounds.

Reeling from the results of their encounter at Ashland in a game which was declared a near rout, Shelby, the leader in the Northern Ohio league, plays cellar-dwelling Bellevue Friday in an attempt to muster its forces for the remainder of the season. Galion, which knocked Bucyrus out of a three-way tie for second place in the league into a two-way tie for third with the Orangemen, meets Upper Sandusky, now in a two-way tie for second with Norwalk. Galion has dropped games to Norwalk and Shelby in the league while winning over Bucyrus and Crestline. Upper, last year's champion, has been defeated only by Norwalk in the league this season. Bucyrus will play Crestline on their home field in another league contest.

Over in Kenton, Vic Dorris is becoming the city's favorite son, having pulled the Hardin county team out of the depths of obscurity in the Western Buckeye league to a position with the leaders. Kenton is now on the second rung of the ladder. Bluffton which handed Kenton its only defeat 14 to 13 being in the top position. Kenton also has a 13 to 13 tie in a non-league contest with Forest to keep it out of the perfect record department.

Carey, still snowing under its opposition, will be gunning for its sixth win when it plays host to Forest. There are plenty of tough ones left on the Carey schedule, Fremont St. Joseph, Kenton and Upper Sandusky yet to be played. Teams which have been downed by Carey are Richwood, Mt. Gilead, Columbus Grove, Ada and North Baltimore.

Caledonia Idle

In the county league Caledonia, still undefeated in six-man football, is idle this weekend. Claridon, upset 32 to 13 last weekend by LaRue, will meet Prospect which last Friday was humbled by Caledonia 25 to 0. LaRue in the meantime will play a non-league game with Clyde.

Ashland, which formerly gave the Prexies their stiffest competition in the N.C.O., plays Wooster this weekend and will be in Marion a week from Friday. Ashland has suffered defeat only once this season, that coming at the hands of Fremont Ross 13 to 7.

It seems that Coach Thomas takes a different team with him to out-of-town games. Last Friday the on-again-off-again Prexies hardly resembled the club which on its own field held Columbus Linden McKinley to a 0 to 0 deadlock and allowed a highly touted Barberton eleven but 12 points in a closely contested ball game.

Lima scored their first two touchdowns last Friday on plays designed to pick up a few yards and not the long gains which resulted in scores. The first Lima tally came on a line plunge by fullback Schiffer that was good for the necessary 18 yards and Lima scored again in the first period when quarterback Thomas slipped through the Harding forward wall and went 32 yards to score. Findlay allowed the Lima team the same number of points that the Prexies did but scored 19 points against the South High gridders. On the basis of those scores it appears the Prexies are going to have some more real competition on their hands Friday night.

St. Mary last week dropped to third place in the Mid-State league when, instead of kicking, they elected to try a quarterback sneak for the point that would have tied up the contest. Whether a kick would have been successful is only for the second guessers to say, but Marysville, by virtue of one point, became sole leaders in the league. Their position also was made possible when Richwood surprisingly fought a once-defeated Mt. Gilead club to an 18 to 18 deadlock. St. Mary has been dogged by injuries in its past several games but appears to be the stronger of the two teams which will meet under the lights of the new Richwood stadium.

Snatches of Sports

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—Pertinent pickups from yesterday's jam session of the football writers and coaches:

only safe place to be when you're ont ysafe place to be when you're playing Columbia is behind—Doc Blanchard seemed to get stronger as the game progressed against Michigan. He'll be allright . . . Leo Paquin, Fordham: "The scouts say Herman Wedemeyer is all he's cracked up to be. I look for a real thriller against St. Mary's, not one of those 9-7 games where St. Mary's stayed on the ground all afternoon and Fordham stayed underground." . . Greasy Neale, Philadelphia Eagles: "Our mistake was that we didn't use our old halfbacks instead of the young ones who fumbled. The veterans always are better than the freshmen." . . . Lou Little, Columbia: "Levi Jackson is going to be a real good football player. He lifts his feet up straight and that makes him harder to tackle." . . . Steve Owen, N. Y. Giants: "I saw in the papers there was dissension on the Redskins. That must have been right because Sammy Baugh was throwing at Steve Bagarus all afternoon—only he threw footballs instead of rocks.

Shorts and Shells

. Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, who has been moaning about the lack of a "breakaway" runner, may have just what he wanted in Enrie Zalejski, who just returned to school from the Army. He showed plenty of speed as a freshman a couple of years ago and should be ready to run in time for the Army game . . . The Dodgers, who tried unsuccessfully to get Clyde Kluttz from the Cards last summer, may have another fine catcher coming up. He's Roy Campanella, who hit .415 for Nashua in the New England playoffs.

Natural Confusion

Sam Barnes, former Oklahoma Aggie grappler who is teaching English and assisting with intramural sports at Virginia Military Institute, worked out this daily schedule: 8 to 10 a. m., English classes; 11 to 1 and 2 to 4, tough football; 4 to 6, softball; evening hours, wrestling . . . proudly he showed it to intramural director Herb Patchin . . . "By Gosh," Patchin exclaimed, "in a month you won't know whether you're passing a guy on his grades or grading a guy on his passes."

THEIR GOAL: SEVENTH GAME TICKETS. Dodie street, St. Louis, Mo., is jammed with people who have just one object, tickets for the seventh and deciding World Series game between the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cards in Sportsman's Park (right, background), where ticket windows are situated. SUPREME COURT TO RULE ON PULLMAN CAR SALE

To Decide on Government Charges of "Greater Monopoly."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 — The supreme court yesterday agreed to rule on a government contention that it should set aside a lower court's order which approved sale of the Pullman company sleeping car business to a combine of 43 railroads.

The justice department urged rejection of the railroads' offer of $75,000,000 for the business on grounds the plan "substitutes for a monopoly which has been adjudicated illegal (under the Sherman anti-trust act) a more powerful monopoly."

A special three-judge U. S. district court in Philadelphia in 1943 upheld government charges of anti-trust law violations by the Pullman Co., which operates and services cars; the Pullman-Standard Car Mfg. Co., which makes Pullman cars; and Pullman, Inc., a holding concern owning the stock of the two other Pullman companies.

The district court ordered Pullman, Inc., to get rid of either its operating or its manufacturing functions. Pullman chose to sell the operating business. The district court in approving sale of that business to the railroad combine rejected offers of three other bidders.

Pheasant Hunters Get Good News for Fall

Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider gave Ohio pheasant hunters considerable encouragement this week about fall hunting prospects, stating that the 1946 division of conservation pheasant distribution has just been completed, in which 68,802 birds ready for fall shooting were released breaking all records of previous years. This figure exceeds last year's release by more than 20,000.

This year's cooperative pheasant rearing project broke all records when almost 42,000 four-week old birds were distributed among farmers and sportsmen for further rearing and release. In addition, 22,900 immature game-farm-reared birds were released together with almost 3,000 mature breeders after the egg laying season plus almost 300 mature cock birds released early in the spring.

Commissioner Rider pointed out that although the release of almost 70,000 birds seems, on the surface, to promise a lot of pheasant shooting, hunters must not overlook the fact that indications are that there will be an estimated 750,000 hunting license sold this year. Therefore, the 70,000 pheasants added to a decreased natural population already in the field still is not expected to take care of this increased hunting pressure.

"There will be a reasonable amount of game this year," Rider said, "but the increased hunting competition will call for greater sportsmanship, close attention to game laws, and cooperation on the part of all."

Music was provided by a male quartet composed of Cover Rinehart, Danny Downs, Ivan Downs, and Everett Douce. Short talks were given by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brady of Grand Prairie Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Douce of University Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams of Bethlehem Grange, and two recently discharged servicemen, Paul Price and John Martin.

The following program was presented: musical reading by Mrs. Elma Downs; the history of agriculture by Oscar Augenstine; reading by Bobby Sharrock; a harvest tableau with the quartet singing "Hail to the Harvest;" a talk on sheep by Earl Douce; piano solo by Mrs. Carl Perry; and a playlet by Mrs. Z. O. Emahiser, Miss Lois Pangborn and Ralph Noggle. A covered dish lunch was served by the committee in charge after the program.

$127,739 at Stake As Ferris, Dickson Face Each Other in World Series Finale

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15—The world championship and $127,739 in cold cash awaits the winner today as Dave (Boo) Ferriss, the amazing Boston Red Sox sophomore, opposes pint-sized Murry Dickson of the St. Louis Cardinals in the finale of the 43rd World Series.

National league prestige, rocked to its foundations by the All-Star game rout, has made a remarkable recovery in the Red Birds' split of the first six games but the power-laden Boston remain the oddmakers favorites at a 13 to 20 price.

Another capacity crowd of 35,000 is expected to pack Sportsman's park.

Ferriss' 4-0 shutout victory in the third game and his 23-6 regular season win record give the Sox an edge over Dickson, a renovated bullpen artist who piled up most of his 15 decisions since his first starting chance June 7.

On top of Ferriss' past performance chart that includes a series win over Dickson, there is a solid suspicion that the Sox, who never have lost a series, are due to break out at least once with a splurge of extrabase blows.

Not even the stoutest members of the "Knock Ted Williams Society" would have figured he'd be going into a seventh game with only five hits, all singles. Williams has been stymied by the variations of the "Dyer shift" and heady pitching by the Cards who have given him very little to hit at. Most of his teammates join "The Kid" in thinking he is due to tee off on the righthanded Dickson.

In the first six games, the box score shows the Cards have completely outplayed the vaunted Sox who breezed to their pennant. St. Louis enjoys an edge in club batting .254 to .242, club fielding .987 to .957, only three errors to 10 and in both total hits and runs.

Seven Card pitchers have given fewer earned runs and pitched more complete games than the 10 Sox hurlers used by Manager Joe Cronin.

Only in the game Ferriss worked did the Red Sox show a marked superiority.

Red Sox Hold Edge in All Betting Odds

Betting Commissioner James J. Carroll quoted Boston with Dave Ferriss pitching at 13 to 20 and St. Louis with Murry Dickson pitching at 13 to 10. It means a Red Sox bettor must wager $20 to win $13, a Cardinals bettor $10 to win $13.

AUTO SPEED MARK TRIALS SCHEDULED

By The Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 15—Tire and fuel crews were instructed to join mechanics today at the Bonneville salt flats course on which Ab Jenkins will attempt to set new automobile speed records in an assault that may last from dawn Friday until dawn Saturday.

Jenkins, former mayor of Salt Lake City who currently holds virtually all world's land speed records for distances greater than 50 miles, said his new racing car, the lightweight "mobil special," arrived at the race course 120 miles west of Salt Lake City last night.

Workmen began yesterday the task of smoothing two circular ten-mile courses.

"The salt is in excellent shape," Jenkins said, "and I am sure that with ideal weather conditions continuing we will have some new speed records after Friday."

The current world's record for one hour, set by Jenkins in 1940, is 182.5 miles per hour. His mark for 24 hours is 161.18 miles per hour. Jenkins said he hoped to boost the one hour mark to 200 miles per hour.

Bud Winfield, designer of the V-8 powered car, and Jenkins' son, Marv, who may aid his father as relief driver, arrived here from Los Angeles last night.

Trial runs are planned tomorrow.

WAC Captain's Bid For Freedom Turned Down

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—The supreme court yesterday refused release of WAC Captain Kathleen Nash Durant, who was convicted by a military court at Frankfort, Germany, of taking part in the theft of the Hesse crown jewels.

Mrs. Durant was accused of participating in the $1,500,000 theft while she managed an army billet in Kronberg castle. Her attorney asked the supreme court to release her through a writ of habeas corpus.

The attorney in a petition contended Mrs. Durant was discharged from the army May 30, 1946, and as a civilian was unlawfully taken to Frankfurt for trial. Mrs. Durant was convicted Sept. 30 and sentenced to five years imprisonment and dishonorable discharge.

The supreme court also refused to intervene in the case of Ralph K. Betz of Willoughby, O., a former GI held in an army jail at Bad Nauheim, Germany, in connection with his asserted illegal reentry into that country.

Betz asked an army lawyer, Capt. Earl J. Carroll, of San Bruno, Calif., to help him. Carroll mailed from Germany a request that the supreme court order release of Betz by a writ of habeas corpus. Betz said he was held without formal charges or the assistance of an attorney.

Three Civic Projects Given Consideration by City Council

Consideration was given by the city council Monday night to three civic-betterment projects, grade crossing elimination, construction of the new airport and adoption of a building code. Considerable routine sewer legislation was passed.

Council passed a resolution authorizing the mayor to make application to the Federal Works Administration for funds for advance planning in elimination of grade crossings. The action followed a period of extensive study of the problem by a Chamber of Commerce committee headed by Floyd G. Browne.

If the city's application is approved by the federal agency, funds may be advanced for preliminary study of the project. Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher said today such funds would probably be used to employ a firm of engineers specializing in such problems. Under federal provisions, the funds must be repaid if and when the work is actually undertaken.

The mayor also was authorized to make preliminary request with the civil aeronautics administration for participation in the federal airport program. Under this program, the federal government will match, approximately, funds with municipalities in development of airports. The action marked the citys' "getting into the picture" in the program.

To Study Building Code

Council Chairman William G. Slack appointed Councilmen C. R. Pennisten, chairman, and Harold F. Robinson and Charles H. Tate members of a committee to study a building code for Marion. The code was prepared during recent months with the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee and about 50 persons in the building trades here. More than 500 manhours were consumed in preparation of the code, Chamber of Commerce Secretary Louis E. Michel estimated.

The following sewer and sidewalk legislation was passed:

A resolution authorizing the city clerk to advertise the estimated assessments of cost of sewer improvement on Patterson and Patten streets.

An ordinance to levy special assessments for improvement of York street from Fies avenue to Waterloo street by construction of a sanitary and storm water sewer.

An ordinance to levy special assessments for construction of a sanitary and storm water sewer in Fahey street from the northern end of the existing sewer north to Silk street.

An ordinance to levy special assessments for construction of a sidewalk on both sides of Uncapher avenue from Keener avenue to the south terminus.

An ordinance to levy special assessments for construction of a sidewalk on the east side of Henry street from Broad street south to 1056 Henry street.

Sewer Approved

Council also passed a resolution authorizing Mitchell Livien, William Martin, Wayne Martin and Don Myers, residents of Windsor street, to employ a contractor to construct a sanitary and storm water sewer in Windsor street from Carner avenue to Edgewood drive, a distance of about 350 feet. By advancing funds for the project, the petitioners avoided necessity of waiting for issuance of bonds and passing of the several legislative steps required in city-handled projects.

A group of committeemen, appointed recently to investigate reports of telephone service in the city, submitted a report after consulting with officials of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co.

The number of telephone calls, they reported, has increased about 72 per cent since the start of the war and total telephones installed in this area has increased comparably. Switchboard equipment to handle to increased load is not available, company officials told the council committee, and probably will not be for another 18 months. The company had deemed it advisable to increase their volume of business although it means temporarily sacrificing quality. The report was accepted by council.

The safety-service director was authorized to sell an X-ray machine now being used at City hospital. He was recently authorized to buy a new one and Monday night's action was taken to permit a trade-in.

Housing Project

A resolution was passed authorizing the safety-service director to enter into contracts with utility companies in regard to service at the veterans' housing project near Lincoln Park.

The city solicitor was authorized to settle a $115.93 claim by A. I. Redlinger incurred when a city truck backed into his car, parked at 379 Girard avenue recently.

Funds were appropriated to pay an assessment of $1,200.97 levied by the Marion county commissioners as the city's share in the cleaning of the Holverstott-Riffle ditch. Water from the city's new airport drains into the ditch.

Herbert S. Siens of Columbus, a representative of the United Public Workers of America, CIO, addressed council regarding concessions asked by Local 310, which includes several city service department employes. Councilman D. R. Biggert, chairman of the finance committee, told Mr. Siens and several city employes present that the finance committee would meet this week and give consideration to their problem.

The Red Cab Co. submitted a petition for permission to operate naming as operator of the company Gayle H. Owens. The company's franchise was formerly granted in the name of Owens and his son, Robert, who has since withdrawn from the company.

Petitions were received to vacate alleys on Duluth street near Girard avenue and between Ballentine and Mark streets. They were referred to the street and alley committee.

A petition was received from Charles H. and Kathleen Casey to authorize commercialization of a lot at 147 Blaine avenue. The petitioners desire to convert a garage at that address into a paint and auto body repair shop. The petition was referred to the planning commission.

W. C. Halderman of 552 North Greenwood street submitted a protest regarding city parks which enlivened the meeting by beginning in verse. His petition read, "Your kids and mine are adorable, Your parks and mine are deplorable." He then slipped into prose to point out that smaller cities than Marion have more progressive park systems and concluded, "Let's quit stalling with that old gag about no money."

First of the season's program meetings of the Lecture-Recital club at Hotel Harding last night featured Ferris E. Ohl, baritone, and Mrs. Dorothy E. Ohl, of the faculty of Heidelberg college. The numbers of Prof. and Mrs. Ohl were received enthusiastically by a group of club members and guests.

Four groups of selections in various nationality categories made up the repertoire of Prof. Ohl, accompanied by Mrs. Ohl, while she played three solo numbers of Bach-Busoni, Brahms and Chopin. In Italian, Prof. Ohl sang compositions of Torelli and Carissimi; his German selections were from Schumann's "Dichterliebe"; music with French words, by Faure, Hue and Gounod; and in English, four numbers of varied moods and backgrounds by Curran, Hutchinson, Work and Head. Names of four unions appear on the ballot: the Independent Association, the UMW District 50, CIO Public Utility Workers and the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Engineers.

A clear majority is needed for one of the groups to be certified. Should there be no such majority a run off election between the two unions receiving the highest number of votes would be ordered by the NLRB.

30 ENTER SHEEP DOGS IN CONTEST

Carl Bradford of Wooster Shows Best Peformers.

About 30 sheep-dog owners from a radius of 150 miles met Saturday at the Ray Gatewood farm on Route 95 nine miles east of Marion to hold the first sheep-dog trials ever to be held in Marion county.

The trials attracted about 150 spectators. Carl Bradford of Wooster took trophies offered by the Sheep Dog Breeders of Ohio in the older dog class. Two of his dogs had the lowest time in herding the sheep into their pen.

Eight dogs competed in the experienced and inexperienced classes. Frank Swensen of Harpster, only expected entrant from this area, was unable to compete since his dog died recently.

Wage Board Members Withdraw Resignations

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—Industry members of the wage stabilization board volunteered today to withdraw their resignations and stick out the early end of federal pay controls pledged by President Truman.

The offer came from A. Colman, Barrett, who told a reporter he was speaking for his colleague, Earl N. Cannon, as well. The two submitted their resignations to Mr. Truman last Wednesday, but the President refused to accept them immediately.

By his speech last night, Mr. Truman charted the eventual end of the wage controls he has been relaxing gradually since Aug. 18, 1945—four days after V-J day.

The policy laid down that day was meant to restore a measure of freedom for workers and employers alike after more than three years under the war labor board. That agency's "little steel" formula limited general pay boosts to 15 per cent of January, 1941, levels.

In the 18th Century, members of royal families anointed their bodies with scented oils, which supposedly had a cleansing effect.

Rocket Researchers Shoot for 200-Mile Altitude Records

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—Army rocket researchers are aiming at a 200-mile altitude mark as one big step toward developing guided missiles approaching transoceanic range.

Ordnance experts made this comment to a reporter today in discussing Secretary of War Patterson's statement last week that a rocket with a range far exceeding the best the Germans could turn out is "a probability in a matter of months."

The experts disclaimed knowledge however, of what specific development Patterson might have had in mind when he made the cryptic reference in his Chicago speech.

Present efforts with the German-made V-2s, it is explained, are aimed at attaining considerably more vertical range than the 104 miles gained in the latest rocket firing test on the White Sands, N. M. range. That altitude compares with the 75 miles reached in the first American experiments with the V-2. The researchers are concentrating on refinements of the fuel used—alcohol and liquid oxygen.

CLARK FOUTS HEADS EDUCATIONAL GROUP

New President Succeeds Miss Philomen Gregg.

Clark Fouts was elected president of the Marion Education Association for the year 1946-47 at the first meeting of the year held Monday afternoon in the West Hall of Harding High school. He succeeds Miss Philomen Gregg.

Chosen to serve with Mr. Fouts were: Stewart Shipman, vice president; Mrs. Lois Beicher, secretary; and Miss Bessie Snider, treasurer. Chairmen of the standing committees were announced by Mr. Fouts as follows: Miss Bessie Snider, membership; Miss Ruth Edwards, flower; A. T. Allen, legislative; William Wiley, professional; Mrs. Beicher, publicity; Miss Marguerite Howser, public relations; Melvin Keeran, salary; and Audrey Bolander, social.

A silent tribute was paid by the association in memory of Miss Elma Howser, a former principal of Pearl Street school, who died recently. Members of the association were greeted by Miss Gregg, and new members were introduced. Mr. Wiley reported on the National Education Association convention held July 1-3 in Buffalo, N. Y., which he attended.

Miss Gregg expressed her appreciation for the help the association has given her during the last two years when she served as president.

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—Observance of November 24-30 as 1946's "National Radio Week" is to find broadcasters, manufacturers and dealers all joining in. The inspiration is that of the Radio Manufacturers association.

It is the plan to stress both new fall programs and receivers.

The new sets are expected to include an increasing number of consoles with facilities to tune in both standard broadcasting and FM as well as phonograph combinations. Previously table models have predominated, as they could be turned out faster to meet the demand occasioned by the cutoff of manufacture during the war. A few cities where stations are operating also will have television receivers.

By the time the week arrives, the association says that production should have reached its 1946 peak, which would establish a new all-time record.

Local broadcasters in all parts of the country are reported to be arranging tie-in programs, with network participation also anticipated.

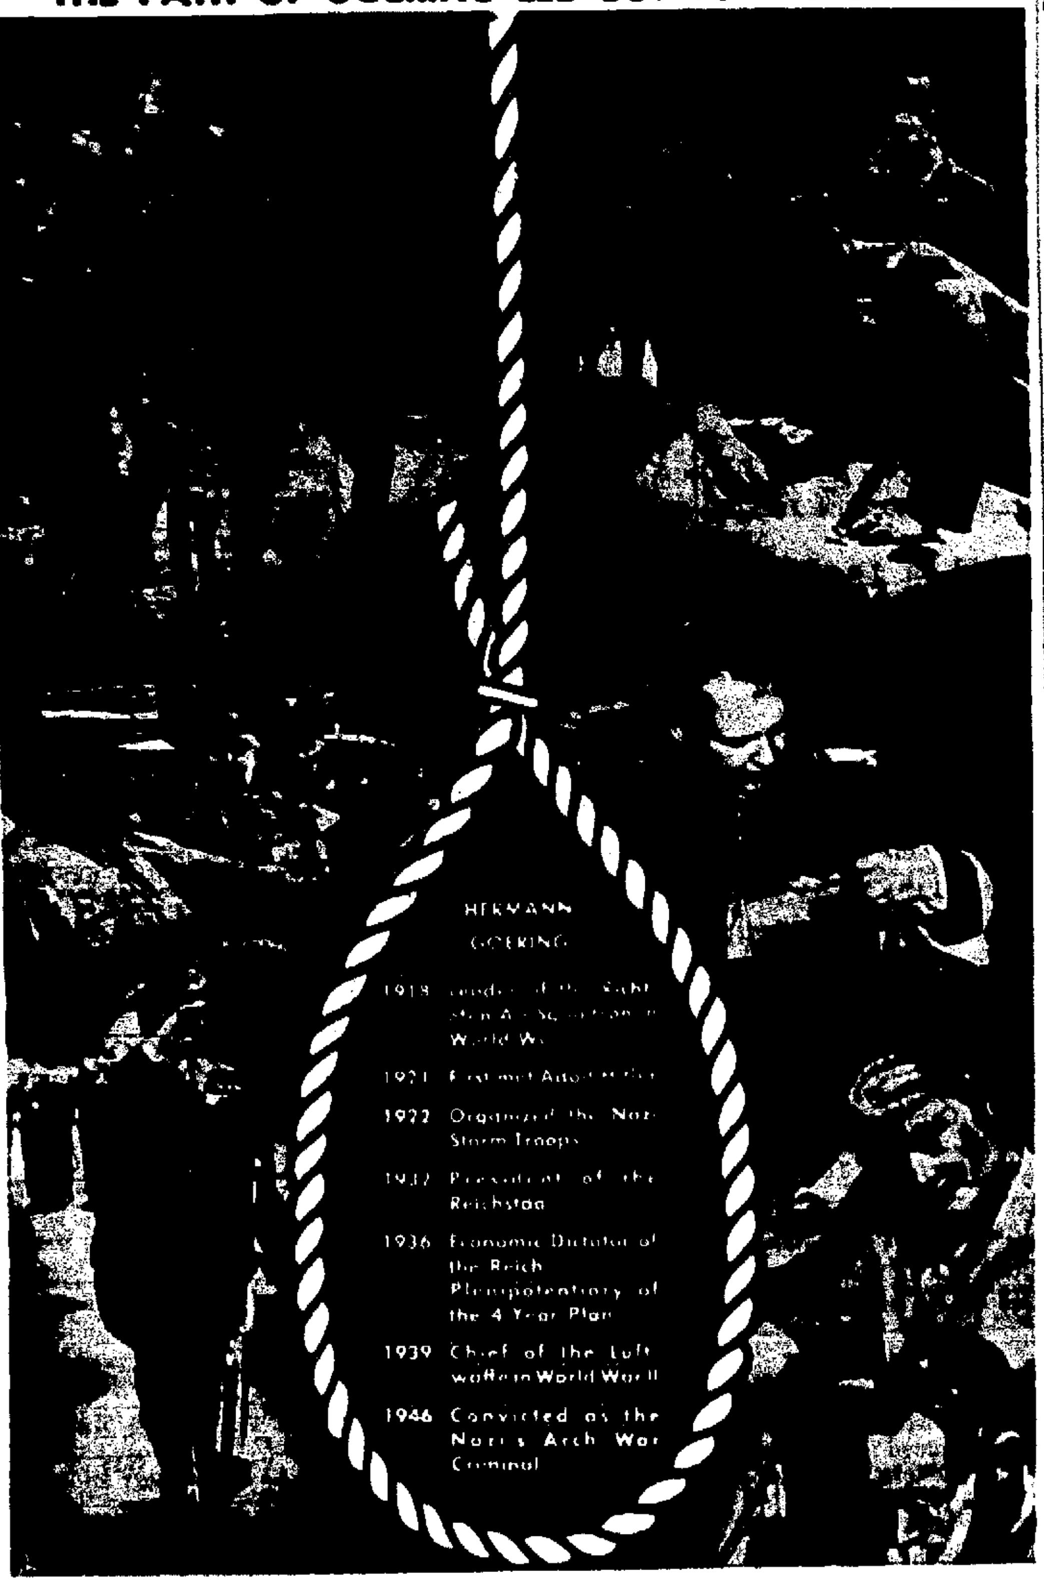
THE PATH OF GOERING LED BUT TO THE GRAVE



HERMANN GOERING
1918 Leader of the Richthofen Squadron in World War
1921 First met Adolf Hitler
1922 Organized the Nazi Storm Troops
1932 President of the Reichstag
1936 Economic Dictator of the Reich Plenipotentiary of the 4 Year Plan
1939 Chief of the Luftwaffe in World War II
1946 Convicted as the Nazi's Arch War Criminal

Tears rolled down the sagging cheeks of Hermann Goering the other day as photos of his family were removed from his cell in Nuernberg jail. His few tears were infinitesimal compared to the deluge that coursed from the eyes of countless others who suffered deeply and abominably because of the dictates of the No. 2 Nazi. Even more than Hitler, Goering personified Nazism to its fullest degradation. With his strutting and posturing in his numerous bemedaled uniforms he presented to the world a picture of spurious strength of character that covered up his cruelty. He founded the first concentration camp, organized the vicious Storm Troops, had a guiding hand in the direction of the dread Gestapo, and organized the plot that led to the burning of the Reichstag building and the grabbing of governmental control by the Nazis. As commander of the Luftwaffe he gave the orders that sent his screaming Stukas and bombers against undefended "open" cities like Warsaw and Rotterdam. In the official Nazi biography of Hermann Goerring, propagandist Joseph Goebbels said of him: "Steadily and firmly he has gone ahead as the Fuehrer's shield-bearer." He was described as having a "profound love of nature and animals. His reform of the laws for the protection of animals and the game laws have been recognized as affording the world an example . . ." In reality it was an example which brought indescribable suffering, torture, and death to hundreds of thousands of human beings. Now, sitting in his bare cell—stripped of the vanity and power that made him so dangerous—he awaits the hangman's step, now only a few hours away. "His "path of glory" will lead to an unmarked grave. MEAT reaction was generally favorable, but Rep. De Lacy (D-Wash) indicated disapproval by calling for a "national buyers' strike" to hold down prices of meat and other items.

And Rep. Monroney (D-Okla) termed the President's action a body blow at inflation control.

The American Meat Institute hailed the decision, but cautioned that it "will not mean much more meat for consumers in the immediate future."

Meat stocks, the institute said, are at a low level, and the distribution "pipelines are completely empty."

In deciding to follow the advice of many of his party leaders and discard ceilings, Mr. Truman in turn denounced "a few men in congress who, in the service of selfish interests, have been determined for some time to wreck price controls no matter what the cost might be to our people."

He made no party line distinction between Republican and Democratic foes of OPA.

Recalling that he had vetoed the original price control extension bill to prevent "a legalized runaway inflation," and that he had signed the second measure "with reluctance," Mr. Truman said:

"I have tried honestly and sincerely to administer this feeble law. * * * From the outset, however, the very forces responsible for the weakening of the law in the congress have demanded the lifting of even the inadequate controls which the congress enacted.

"Besides, many members of the congress and many candidates have pledged themselves to vote for the removal of controls as soon as the new congress meets."

"Widespread Violations"

Moreover, the President said "there are reports of widespread disregard and violations of the price control law," and "experience shows that this leads to a tendency to disregard the sanctity of other laws of our country."

All the alternatives to removal [illegible]

...ger of an "early and severe" economic "collapse" unless prices were held in check.

In his speech last night Mr. Truman acknowledged "the risk in the action we are taking." But he said it is "less than it would otherwise be because production in general is now increasing at a significant rate."

He also stressed the inter-relation of wages and prices, and said that as "we speed up the removal of price controls, the removal of wage controls also will be accelerated."

Wage Restrictions Lift Seen

This generally was regarded as a hint that the elimination of pay restrictions may come soon, a step demanded by some labor and business leaders. They include AFL President William Green and Eric A. Johnston, former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who also favor scrapping most price controls.

As for what may happen to meat prices, Mr. Truman had this to say:

"For many months the representatives of the livestock and meat industry have insistently demanded the removal of controls from their products. They have made the definite promise that the lifting of controls * * * would bring to market the meat which our people want, at reasonable prices.

"The American people will know where the responsibility rests if profiteering on meat raises prices so high that the average American cannot buy it."

Quarantine Lifted

One other step is in the works, Mr. Truman reported—lifting of the quarantine against cattle from Mexico. The President said an investigation by the agriculture department showed [illegible] in June could be [illegible] that "when this happens, a substantial number of cattle from Mexico will come to this country." [illegible]

Sweeney, Republican nominee for the U. S. senate from West Virginia, termed the removal of meat controls "purely an election measure" which appears to be "just a sort of death bed repentance."

Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee, declared:

"It's too late. The damage has been done. Truman is locking the barn door after the horse has been taken to the butcher shop."

On the Democratic side, Rep. Harris (Ark.) commented:

"Controls on meat have been a complete failure since they were reimposed. I don't see that the President could have taken any other course."

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) expressed hope that a breakdown of the whole stabilization program could be avoided, and added:

"It's up to the American people to see that doesn't happen."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said controls should have been removed a long time ago. All the President is doing is what I urged him to do all along."

Clarence J. Brown, campaign director of the Republican national committee, said the action "Demonstrates Mr. Truman's unerring ability to do the right thing too late."

Thorough approval was voiced by the Republican floor leader, Senator White of Maine, who said "it is the only sound course" the President could take.

The future of slaughter quotas, covered by separate OPA orders, was not immediately clarified. Presumably, however, they also will be dropped.

before, prices on meat would be less than they are now and there would be plenty of meat, too."

In Washington Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, campaign director of the Republican national committee, commented, "it demonstrates Mr. Truman's unerring ability to do the right thing too late."

On the Democratic side Taft's colleague, James W. Huffman of Columbus, said, "I think the President pursued the proper course under the circumstances," and added:

"If the people want meat and this will do it for them, then certainly it's the best thing."

Governor Lausche, in Lorain for a campaign speech, said in a statement:

"If meat does not now become purchasable at proper prices, the people will want to know the reason why. Those responsible will have to give an accounting.

"When meat reaches the counters, let us all impose voluntary restraints upon ourselves. Let us not buy more than we need. Let us make certain that a fair share will be available to all."

Most meat and grocery men tempered their welcome with a warning that the counters would not be full tomorrow, although in Cincinnati Gus Juengling, president of the Cincinnati Wholesale Meat Dealers' association, representing 17 packers there, said there would be "meat on Cincinnati's tables by Friday."

G.O.P. MAKES PLEDGE TO STOP INFLATION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15—A Republican promise to stop inflation and investigate billions of dollars of wartime spending was made last night by the party's national chairman, Carroll Reece.

"We will halt the ruinous trend toward inflation," Reece told the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's organization at the close of a two-day meeting. He asserted inflation was "produced by the administration's blind insistence upon spending more than it took in for 14 years."

Flanked by Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and former Ohio Governor John W. Bricker, Reece asserted:

"The fact that the administration has done this spending is the reason your dollar will not buy as much today as it did a few years ago. It is not high prices that cause inflation. Inflation causes high prices. We will stop inflation.

"We will conduct thorough-going investigations into the extravagence and possible corruption which attended the spending of hundreds of billions of dollars during the war.

Most of the Republican party's nominees for top state offices also spoke.

Said Thomas J. Herbert, candidate for governor, in reference to Gov. Lauche: "There are candidates who courted the New Deal, accepted financial contributions from its supporters, but today lack the courage and sincerity to declare themselves either for or against it."

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

CAROLYN BRIXTON lifted her head alertly at reference to my father.

"Where is 'Mr. K.' going to ride?" she asked, and I am afraid I took a sadistic pleasure in the disappointed look which flashed over her face as she heard my answer.

"In the other car with your father, Dr. Twitchell and Mrs Bickett,' I told her "The two boys are coming with us"

No Young Man

"We'll be so crowded," she said petulantly, but I knew that her dolor lay in the prospect of making the journey with no young and attractive man in the car

I was malicious enough to give her Georges' message, a bit abridges when I had answered her plaint

"So will be the people in the other car," I said, "for your father has to go on a stretcher By the way, Georges asked me to say good-bye to everybody for him, and I suppose he meant to include you and your mother"

I made my voice purposefully careless, but, though her eyes glittered with vexation she made no reply I saw Helena open her lips to speak, but Mrs Holland put her hat into her hands, held a mirror in front of her and Carolyn's mother forgot everything else in the absorption of adjusting her hat becomingly

Jack's Disguise

Mrs Holland worked swiftly and everything was ready when Gus knocked on the door Junior and Roderick, luggage in hand, were close behind him I saw that they were tremendously excited and guessed that Jack's disguise was the thing which had intrigued them

"This the luggage?" Gus asked and, when Mrs Holland nodded assent, he hung the various bags on his arms and shoulders, and tucked them under his arms as a skilled "bell hop' might have done, then turned to the door

"This way," he instructed, opening the door, and gesturing toward the corridor outside

Junior and Roderick ranged themselves on either side of me and Mrs Holland stepped between Helena and Carolyn Each of her hands was cupped around an elbow of her charges, and I suggested that while the grasp was light, it instantly could become like steel if necessity called for such action

Two Armored Cars

We went directly down into the basement room adjoining the big space where I knew the two armored cars were waiting Sam Brixton, on a stretcher, was already there with Dr Twitchell and Katharine in attendance, but there was no sign of Jack

Several chairs were ranged down the center of the room and my father addressed me first

"Sit over here please ' he directed 'I do not wish you to have any share in this ' Then he turned to Helena

'I regret having to do this" he said, 'but necessity compels me to have you blindfolded until we reach the open country Mrs Holland, Mrs Bickett ' he said turning to each, "will you please attend to the blindfolding Leave your patient to the last '

Helena's voice was sincerely piteous as the broke into a storm of tears

"Blindfold Carolyn and me if you have to,' she sobbed, 'but surely you do not need to hurt a man as sick as Sam He'll keep his eyes closed won't you, Sam? You dont want to look at their loathsome secrets, do you, darling?"

Sam stretched a weak hand toward her

Bit Her Lips

"Don't make it hard for yourself and me Baby," he entreated "I don't mind being blindfolded a bit It doesn't hurt me and it won't hurt you or Carolyn Just take it easy! Please, Baby! For my sake'"

She bit her lips until a tiny speck of red showed on the lower one Then she yielded sullenly.
